REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with William Player on June 15, 2004.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 29, lines 6 and 7, "a substantial amount" has been deleted and replaced by --an amount that impairs the properties of said heat insulation body--.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Applicant's amendment and arguments have overcome the prior art and rejections, and the rejections presented in Paper dated December 10, 2003 are being withdrawn.

The closest prior art of record fails to teach or suggest the recited microporous heat insulation body. Independent claim 29 identifies the uniquely distinct features of a substrate that includes "the microporous heat insulation body does not contain organic components in a substantial amount, and the microporous heat insulation body is stable at 620 °C". The closest prior art of record, Kratel et al. (USPN 5,556,689) in view of Sklarski et al. (USPN 4,783,365), disclose insulating articles, which either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render obvious the above limitations.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
